Subject:	Config to disable auto-away
Description:	Would be nice if this was a thing as I don't want people to know when I am online and when I'm not. Currently removing auto-away can only be accomplished by editing the source files and recompiling the engine, which is non-ideal. Just a simple checkbox and maybe a text box for those who want to have a custom auto-away message would be nice.

With auto away I assume you mean the auto away when no frontend is connected.
