Subject:	Notices shouldn't open a query
Description:	A lot of channels have bots which send a /notice on join. It would be great if those didn't open a query.

Hm this is actually "wanted" else you will miss notices. Notice are creating a tab but does not fire a highlight. I am also not very happy about it but please propose a solution to this mess :/

It's not wanted for me, my tab bar space is precious... what's the rationale behind them not just triggering the highlight?
