Subject:	A ability to hide all words but those related to your conversation for easy conversation in a busy chatrooms + ignore fe
Description:	With this proposed feature on, all words highlighted, whether from them saying your name, or you speaking like here- http://www.smuxi.org/issues/show/613 Would be the only words shown, all other words would be temporarily hidden. The flip side of this feature would be a option to see none of the messages from X user, basically a ignore option. If these hidden messages could be selectively folded out and in at will so you can see what someone said when you want to, that would be even better.
