| Subject: | remove join+part message of inactive contacts | | |
| Description: | Most of my chat windows are filled with quit+join or join+part or join+quit messages of people that don't write a single line of text or during a time where they don't. It would be great if messages following each other directly could be removed. Even better would be if they'd be removed, even in cases where they don't follow each other directly, but don't fulfill any purpose. | | |
