

Smuxi - Bug # 100: adding servers with the same hostname

Subject:	adding servers with the same hostname
Description:	When you add servers with the same hostname, it will corrupt the config. The config uses the hostname as "primary key" to store the server info and thus overwrites the old settings and keep adding the same server to the "Servers" key. The config needs to throw an exception when a server with the same hostname is added.
