Subject:	Configuration settings not fully applied in 0.6.4
Description:	The configuration settings (at least, the color setting, don't know with regard to other settings) aren't applied to the contact list (nickname list on IRC) and the topic box. i.e. if I set the background color to black and text white, the chat window and the chat textbox have the right colors, while the nickname list and the topic have the default black text on white background
