Can you provide a use-case for this?

for xmpp: a contact's nickname changes (that's where I ran into the problem, currently solved by closing and reopening I think) for irc: a contact's nickname changes in a channel the user is in

This is a design bug on the current protocol / engine->frontend API that can not easily be fixed, except the protocol gets broken which is not an option as the protocol is stable since 0.8. The new RESTful API need to cover/deal with this. see: https://wiki.gnome.org/Smuxi/Protocol/Zero
