

Smuxi - Support # 989: Add instructions for building Debian packages directly from git repository

|                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                     |        |
|---------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|--------|
| Status:      | New                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Priority:    | Normal |
| Author:      | Faheem Mitha                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Category:    |        |
| Created:     | 09/04/2014                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Assigned to: |        |
| Updated:     | 09/04/2014                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Due date:    |        |
| Subject:     | Add instructions for building Debian packages directly from git repository                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                     |        |
| Description: | It would be useful to have instructions on how to build Debian packages from the git repository, for Debian people who want to do testing of recent changes. `README.md` seems like a natural place, or possibly a different file. Maybe a file in the `debian/` subdirectory would be suitable. However, I'd favor the `README.md`, since that is the most globally visible. I'm not sure what the correct tag is. This isn't a bug or a feature request, so I've used "Support". Please correct as necessary. |                     |        |

History

---